Area Athletes Named To All-District Team

Several area high school basketball players have been named to the All-District Team. The team is selected by the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association.

For the second year in a row, Vienna High School girls basketball players Amy Hollis and Monica Slone have been named to the Class 2A Team.

Hollis, a 5'5 junior guard, was named to the All-District first team. She is the daughter of Rex and Beth Hollis.

Slone, a 5'10 senior post player, was named to the second team. She is the daughter of Dwight and Rhonda Slone.

"Both Amy and Monica played well on both ends of the floor, defensively as well as offensively," commented head coach Mick Byrd. "They worked hard to achieve these post season accolades. It is rewarding to see our young players are respected throughout our district."

Also named to the Class 2A All-District first team from Vienna is 6'1 senior guard Tony James, son of Brian and Becky James. This is his first year on the All-District Team.
