

Eads inducted into Vo-Tech honor society

Out of 1,200 applicants, Vienna High School senior Dana Eads was one of the 20 RTI/RTC students honored as the first inductees to the National Vocational-Technical Honor Society.

Faculty, staff and administrators of Rolla Technical Institute and Rolla Technical Center gathered along with high achieving students and their parents on April 12 to recognize the induction of the first 20 members of the schools to join the National Vocational-Technical Honor Society.

The event, held at the Centennial Hall-West on the campus of the University of Missouri-Rolla, included speeches, a banquet and a candlelight ceremony to signify the beginning of this prestigious new society.

Students so recognized exemplified the seven attributes that the National Vocational-Technical Honor Society stands for: skill, honesty, service, responsibility, scholarship, citizenship and leadership.
