Jenny Terwilliger and Robert Hagen are in the Senior Spotlight for this week.

Jenny, 17, is the daughter of Bruce and Twyla Terwilliger of Vienna. She is a varsity cheerleader and works at Maries Manor.

Her favorite color is pink and her favorite animal is the "bunny rabbit, because it has a cute little tail."

She loves ketchup, shopping at Deb's for clothes in the mall and thinks actor Freddie Prinze, Jr. is one hot babe.

Her favorite class is P.E. and if she could go anywhere it wouldn't be just one place – she'd go everywhere. She really wants to see the world.

Jenny's hobbies include shopping and being with her friends.

Jenny says she really doesn't have a best friend. "All my friends are my best friends!"

In her free time she likes hanging out at her boyfriend's house.

She is graduating at the half in December and attending Merrill University of Beauty Arts and Science.

Jenny describes herself as a "happy blonde diva who is full of love." And, Jenny, I think everyone else thinks that way of you, too!

Robert Hagen, 17, is the son of Roger and Susan Hagen of Vienna. He is attending Rolla Vo-Tech this year and taking construction.

For work he does a little construction and is self-employed cutting wood.

His favorite color is blue and his favorite animal is the dog – especially pit bulls. "They're really cool."

He likes to eat deer meat and turkey and his favorite class is advanced biology.

He would love to go across the country someday and just take off to see all the land.

Robert's best friends include "all the bros of 2001." His favorite hobby is working on vehicles and you can almost always find Robert hanging out in the garage or in the woods.

After school he plans on "taking a vacation, maybe retiring, or something."

Robert describes himself as a "crazy, outspoken, adventurous, wild guy."
