Jonathan Stratman, a senior at Maries R-I, recently took second place in non-fiction in the Rolla Area Writing Competition, sponsored by Arts Rolla and UMR.

Stratman's work is titled The Morning Kingdom of Vienna. In it, he describes the joy of living in a place where reminders of the mystery and magic of the past abound. He wrote the piece in response to an English IV assignment in which he was to choose a place and try to capture the spirit of it through his choice of specific details and examples.

Stratman, his family and English teacher attended the awards' ceremony on the campus of UMR.
